BOUNTY

Bounty is inspired by the Arts and Crafts movement, which was created in the late nineteenth century in Britain. This movement reformed manufacturing and created value within decorative arts. Since then, the appeal for Arts and Crafts within design has become widely recognised.

William Morris was a big influence within this collection. He is well-known for using natural motifs and believing in the importance of creating beautiful, well-made objects.

Here at Calderdale, we believe this too. Therefore, taking influence from Morris, we have combined modernised Arts and Crafts design with the current obsession of greenery to create a unique on trend collection.

This collection is maximalism, but with a sophisticated twist. It showcases layers of foliage and shapes that create intricate patterns, which make a statement within interiors.
